Four Seasons Hotel, Geneva (Switzerland)

Case Study

Located directly on Lake Geneva, it was constructed in 1834 and is the oldest luxury hotel in Switzerland, as well as one of the city's historical landmarks.
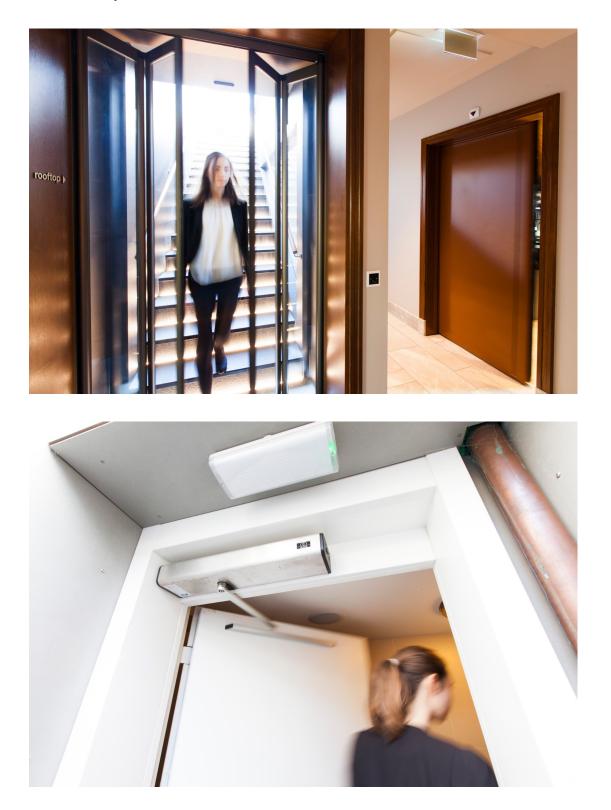

The Four Seasons Hotel des Bergues is the first and only one of its kind in Switzerland. Built in neoclassical style, guests are seduced by its 70 rooms and 45 suites, creative Italian cuisine, exceptional bar, elegant lounges, business centre and gym, ensuring a highly enjoyable stay. Conscientious staff provides excellent, attentive service.

Renowned interior designer Pierre-Yves Rochon designed the guest rooms and suites with great elegance, combining the classic looks and style of the hotel with the latest technology. Let the views of the lake, the Old Town and courtyard enchant you. The rooms are bright and airy, decorated in blue and green fabrics and colours, light-coloured woods and Louis Philippe-style furnishings. Almost a quarter of the rooms are spacious suites, most with step-out balconies overlooking Lake Geneva.
